ORDER

Yahya Afridi, CJ.-At the very outset we confronted the learned counsel for the petitioner as to the grievance of the petitioner regarding the order relating to transfer of the case is concerned. In response, the learned counsel brought to the attention of the court that there were certain findings, in particular, in para Nos.25 and 28 of the impugned order which would prejudice the petitioner.

2. The request so made is reasonable. We, therefore, dispose of this CMA only to the extent that any findings recorded in para No.25 and 28 of the impugned order should not prejudice the petitioner and consequently, the same are expunged. The learned counsel for the petitioner states that in view of the order so passed there is no reason for the petitioner to file any CPLA.

3. The CMA is disposed of accordingly.
