ORDER

Faisal Arab, J. The petitioner, present in person, states that he has been dispossessed. However, the record shows that he has been dispossessed after the decree was passed by the Court of law. We observe that the petitioner should seek his remedy before the Court which passed the said decree. Insofar as the impugned judgments are concerned, we find that in the earlier round of litigation, similar applications were filed and were disposed of. Hence, no case for interference is made out. This petition is accordingly dismissed and leave to appeal is declined.
